

ORGANIC FARMING

Are you involved with organic farming? Organic farming has made big strides in recent years, offering consumers a viable nutritional alternative to other methods of production. This growth also led to the formation of numerous organizations, which oversee the validation and certification processes for interested producers and member farms in various geographic areas.

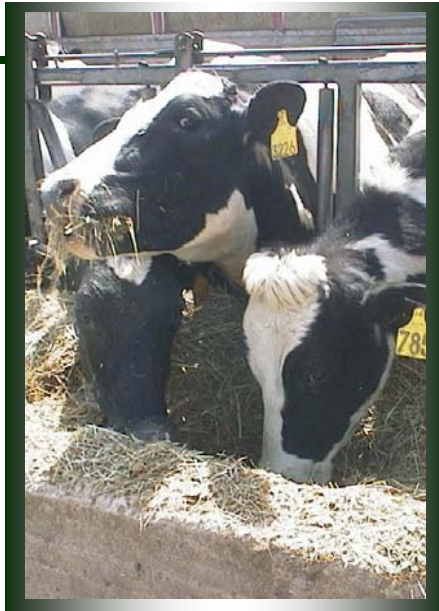

Each organization oversees the development and enforcement of specific mandates, which may differ slightly from place to place. However, the essence of organic farming is the same – productivity without the use of chemicals and additives in any part of the process: from fields and crops to cow management, feeds and feeding.

Renaissance Nutrition, with nutritional consultants in more than 25 states, is interested in working with organic farms, offering a level of expertise and quality products that can help you to meet the nutritional requirements of your cows so they can produce to their genetic potential from their first lactation and beyond.

Regardless of whether you are an organic producer or not, nutrition is a key to profitable farming - helping to ensure the success of your operation. When sound nutrition is combined with quality products and good management you can achieve a valuable difference... today and everyday in the future.

You can rely on the high quality people, products and services of Renaissance! Highly trained, professional consultants help to rank our company as one of the best in dairy and livestock nutrition and farm management.

Renaissance is committed to you - providing practical, professional nutritional solutions, high quality products, outstanding services, and an unending dedication to your success – combined with a high level of integrity. I am sure you'll find that Renaissance makes a difference!

The quality of products necessary on an organic farm is important. This includes assurances that the ingredients used in manufacturing end-products are approved only when they meet exacting standards and have been approved for use by organic farms.

At Renaissance, ensuring your cows are fed the best macro and trace minerals is our business! Our raw ingredients are tested to ensure the highest quality inputs are used in each and every product. Additionally, our equipment is carefully cleaned between mixes. The products you feed and your complete satisfaction are important to us – and we go to great lengths in seeking to ensure the quality and integrity of each mix.

When you combine quality products, along with top-notch service and proactive management practices on the farm – the results may include improved productivity and profitability for your dairy or livestock operation.

RENAISSANCE NUTRITION
Use REN-O... for a difference!

MAKING A DIFFERENCE ON ORGANIC FARMS

Founded in 1985, Renaissance Nutrition is a leader in dairy and livestock nutrition and farm management. Headquartered in Pennsylvania, we maintain consultants and sales in all eastern states and the Midwest. Renaissance is committed to:

- ◆ Advanced nutritional consultation
- ◆ Consistently high quality products, with selected products formulated to meet organic dairy and livestock requirements
- ◆ Current, up-to-date farm management advice and techniques
- ◆ A team of well-trained, highly competent technical experts to assist in all aspects of rations and farm management
- ◆ Integrity in business and ethics
- ◆ Competitive pricing

Whatever it takes to help you succeed... that is Renaissance Nutrition!

Consider what Renaissance has to offer for your organic farm, working with you toward achieving the future goals you have for your livestock today... and tomorrow.

Roaring Spring, PA
www.rennut.com

1-800-346-3649

Serving Organic
Farms

Renaissance Nutrition

SERVING ORGANIC
FARMS
With ~

- ◆ Outstanding services
- ◆ Quality REN~O products
- ◆ Forage analysis
- ◆ Dry matter testing
- ◆ Cow comfort
- ◆ Balanced rations
- ◆ Nutritional consulting
- ◆ Agronomic consulting
- ◆ Body condition scoring
- ◆ Locomotion scoring
- ◆ Solutions for your success
- ◆ A commitment to excellence
- ◆ RESULTS!
- ◆ And much more...

Take a look at who we are and what we can offer your organic farm! Together, we can make a difference in both productivity and profitability. Make Renaissance a member of your team today and in the future.

RENAISSANCE NUTRITION, INC.

Roaring Spring, PA 16673

www.rennut.com

1.800.346.3649

A PARTNER FOR ORGANIC FARMS

~ Notes and Considerations ~

RENAISSANCE
NUTRITION

Roaring Spring, PA 16673

1.800.346.3649

Renaissance Nutrition ~

SERVING ORGANIC
FARMS
with
APPROVED PRODUCTS